

The background of the poster is a vibrant, cartoon-style illustration of a snowy winter town. At the top, a string of colorful Christmas lights (red, orange, green) hangs across the frame. Below the lights, snow-covered houses with steep roofs and windows are visible. In the foreground, a group of seven diverse children are singing from green songbooks. They are dressed in winter attire, including Santa hats, scarves, and red and green clothing. The overall atmosphere is warm and festive, with soft snowflakes falling around the children.
